

Sorting Scenarios

1.	After staying up late and not getting much sleep, a student has to get up and get to school on time.
2.	A student who prides themselves on getting top marks has a number of projects and tests, all due the same week, and asks for extensions.
3.	A student's parents have separated and started divorce proceedings, and she is struggling in the aftermath.
4.	After speaking with a doctor and being referred to a psychologist for counselling, a student begins taking medication for depression.
5.	Although this term at school has been tough, a student feels both relief that it's over and pride that he got all of his assignments in on time.
6.	A student is called down to the office and, although he doesn't know why he's been called down, he begins to sweat as he approaches the office.
7.	A student who has struggled for months with feelings of hopelessness and worthlessness begins to have recurring thoughts of suicide.
8.	A student desperately wants to make it onto one of the school's sports teams but worries that they don't have what it takes to play at that level.

9.	After breaking up with his girlfriend, a student feels uncomfortable in their shared social group and begins to avoid going to school.
10.	A student is required to give a speech in front of the class as part of her final project, and just the thought of it gives her butterflies in her stomach.
11.	A student takes on an extra class and uses time management strategies to make sure they can handle the extra workload.
12.	A student's grandmother, his primary caregiver, passes away and he still feels sad weeks later.	